Stephen,

Just got off the phone with Tony DiClemente in OTD and confirmed that [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

The suspicion that we have used that app is likely attributable to a FOIPA that was recently answered by RMD with a boiler plate response that 'we do not provide information as to tools we may or may not use in the course of investigations...'. That 'non-answer' has been interpreted by conspiracy theorists to mean that we must obviously use the tool.

That is simply not the case.

And for full visibility, we have learned that the [REDACTED]

Paul – I just spoke with an executive at Carrier IQ and he told me that the FBI had approached the company about using its technology.

That statement appears to contradict FBI Director Robert Mueller's testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee on Wednesday, where he said that the bureau "neither sought nor obtained information" from Carrier IQ "in any one of our investigations."

I'd like to get a comment as soon as possible on this, as well as answers to the questions below:

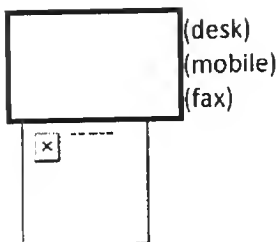

1. When did the FBI contact Carrier IQ, how many times in total, and for what reasons?
2. Has the FBI ever used or tested Carrier IQ's software or any other product made by the company; that is, for investigations or for any other purposes?
3. What did Mr. Mueller not tell the committee yesterday that the bureau had approached the company?

Thanks very much.

FRANKEN:

Recent research has shown that Carrier IQ's software captures a broad range of sensitive information like the content of text messages, the content of searches, even if those searches are -- if the user thinks they're encrypted, Carrier IQ gets them back unencrypted, also the full addresses of the websites that users use or visit.

News reports have suggested that the FBI accesses and analyzes information gathered by Carrier IQ's software. What wireless carriers have the FBI requested this information from? What carriers? And what information have you obtained from those requests?

MUELLER:

Let me start off by saying we have neither sought nor obtained any information from Carrier IQ in any one of our investigations.

And I only follow-up by saying that there was some confusion I believe in terms of the response to a FO -- Freedom of Information Act request, which indicated a standard exemption was being utilized. And from that it was extrapolated that perhaps we were obtaining information from Carrier IQ.

As I said before, we are not -- have not and are not -- have not sought and do not have any information from Carrier IQ.

FRANKEN:

Well, what about not directly from Carrier, but what about from the wireless carriers?

MUELLER:

That's very general in terms of wireless carriers. I am -- well, let me put it...

FRANKEN:

Get information from them from use of their software of Carrier IQ?

b6
b7C
b7E

file: [REDACTED]

MUELLER:

No, I don't believe so. If you're specifying use of the Carrier IQ software in -- by another -- by a wireless carrier, have we sought that, I do not believe so. In other words, I'd have to -- I'd have to check and be more specific in the question and the answer I give you because...

(CROSSTALK)

FRANKEN:

... follow through with that.

MUELLER:

... it be FISA Title 3, we would seek particular information. I do not know in the information we seek, from wireless carriers or what have you, and I'm not talking about Carrier IQ, I'm talking about wireless carriers...

FRANKEN:

Right.

MUELLER:

... that we may obtain information that in some way Carrier IQ may have been involved with. I'd have to get back to you specifically on that particular...

(CROSSTALK)

FRANKEN:

OK. Great. I appreciate that.
